BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Adjutant General Houghton will arrive at Victoria by the next steamer from Ottawa.

The first touch of winter in the form of a hoar frost was felt at Victoria on the 28th ult.

Picht's distillery, at New Westminster, has been seized by the Inland Revenue Department.

The Colonist has the following from a recent arrival from Kootenai: Our southern gold fields are yielding very satisfactorily. All the regular diggings continue to yield well and a number of miners have resumed work on Negro Creek (long abandoned) with satisfactory results. The markets are well supplied and living was never so cheap before. Flour is brought in from Walla Walla and sold at 6¼ cents. Bacon is a drug in the market at 18 to 20 cents and fresh meat abundant at 8 to 10 cents; other things being proportionately low. The crops have been excellent this year and great progress is being made in agriculture and stock raising, for which the country presents rare natural advantages. The silver lead recently discovered on Kootenai river by Americans is thought to be very rich. It is understood that a sample sent down to San Francisco assayed six hundred dollars to the ton.

Considerable excitement exists since the discoveries at the Cassiar mines. The Colonist of the 28th ult says: Save and except one Custom house officer at Tongas and Fort Wrangle everyone has left for the mines—traders and all—the Stickeen river mouth being deserted. Messrs. Smith and Adams had gone up to the mines as well as Bromovitch, whose goods were on the California and are conveyed back to Portland, there being no one at Fort Wrangle to secure them of the California. Mr Goodline showed us some coarse wash gold he had with him as pure and beautiful as that from Lightning creek. It will assay $18 50 per oz, of which he takes down $700. Several U. S. army officers on the California have in their possession some fine nuggets from $[illegible] to $24. A miner who came down with the California obtained two ounces of gold from three feet of bedrock. There are from ten to twenty men at the mines who have gone up to stake claims and will be forthwith [illegible]. A party of three had left Nanaimo [illegible] with provisions bound for the mines.

THE SUNKEN POLARIS.

CAUSE OF CAPTAIN HALL'S DEATH—MUTINY AND INSUBORDINATION ON THE POLARIS—A [illegible] OF THE JUNIATA—[illegible] THE TIGRESS—THE MYSTERY OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN [illegible].

A correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from the mid Atlantic berg, in latitude [illegible] 21 10, longitude [illegible] W, narrates his interview with Mr H Kroup Smith, Royal Inspector of North Greenland and a gentleman of superior attainments. Mr Smith says of Capt. Hall's trials:

I pitied him from the bottom of my heart. To me he imparted the source of all his troubles and a more distracted man I have seldom seen. We give the correspondent's story. Mr Smith concluded:

In fact it is my sincere conviction that Dr. Bessel, well knowing his own superior qualifications as a scientist and apprehensive lest the result of his labors would redound to the credit of Capt. Hall, secretly conspired against him, using Buddington and Meyer as the instruments by which to carry out his designs.

Dr Emil Bessel I may here state was a graduate of the University of Heidelberg and a man of high reputation as a scientist. He was formerly attached to the German (Gotha) expedition in the Albert which left Bremen about four years ago under the auspices of Dr Petermann, who strongly endorsed Dr Bessel.

Somewhat surprised at the statement of the Inspector concerning the movements of the chief scientist, and to which little or no reference had been made during the investigation at Washington, I inquired the reason that had led him to such a strange conclusion.

"Captain Hall's own words," replied the Inspector. "After the Polaris left Fiskernaes the envious feeling entertained against Hall by some of his subordinates was openly displayed. Aware of Hall's deficiency in scientific knowledge, no opportunity was lost to speak of him in a sneering and contemptuous tone, and as one incompetent to command the expedition. This feeling was fostered and encouraged and had its effect among the crew. Besides, nearly all the sailors were German and were of course very easily influenced by their talented countryman, Dr. Bessel, although as I said before he kept in the background. By the time, however, the vessel reached Holsteinborg the ill concealed simply because of his position and the supposed honors that awaited him did he prove successful became so decided that discipline there was none, and the whole ship's company was becoming demoralized. When the Polaris arrived at Holsteinborg there was in the little harbor a Swedish expedition consisting of a brig and a small steamer then on its way home. Mr Bessel had almost made up his mind to abandon Hall's expedition and return with the Swedes. At the last moment however he decided to remain on the Polaris."

The impression left on me by Hall's conversation was that no effort was spared to undermine him in the estimation of his crew. Here is another point: I think Dr Bessel was determined to make the expedition as much German in its character as was possible to do. He had a great deal of influence over the men. In writing letters to Petermann's Review he styled the undertaking

THE HALL-BESSEL EXPEDITION,

Evidently intending that all the credit should not go to America. But if Bessel was an ambitious man he was certainly a most accomplished physician and naturalist. Indeed I have rarely met his equal."

Mr Smith says he never heard Captain Hall say Buddington was his enemy, and he always told him everything. Hall told him it was his express wish that no spirituous liquors should be taken on the Polaris, but Dr Bessel obtained a supply as medical stores by order of the Secretary of the Navy. As to the accusation of drunkenness, made against Buddington, he says if it is true B must have procured his liquor from Bessel.

Did you yourself ever notice any display of ill-feeling between Captain Hall and Dr Bessel?

"Yes. Besides knowing of its existence from conversations I had with both gentlemen I saw an exhibition of it in my own house. The evening before the Polaris sailed Captain Hall called on me. Dr Bessel had already arrived. They were at first very reserved toward each other, but finally gave way to

STRONG LANGUAGE.

The situation was not at all agreeable for myself and wife. Dr. Bessel finally left the house, and Captain Hall told me in a very excited manner of the difficulties with which he was surrounded; that he considered Dr Bessel was acting as a spy on him and that despite all his efforts he apprehended further difficulty. He then placed in my possession for safe keeping four boxes containing all his private papers, including the result of his labors when in search of Sir John Franklin, saying that as he might never return, he would not take them with him, and that as he did not wish to send them to America by the Congress he preferred to leave them in my charge."

Was any reference ever made to the contents of those papers?

Captain Hall conversed more with my wife upon the subject than with me. I heard him say, however, that they contained some which had never been published and which he had determined to keep secret until after Lady Franklin's death.

Did he assign any reason?

He was very reticent as to the revelations set forth in the papers and seemed averse to have the matter brought up in conversation. But I understood him to say that out of sympathetic feeling for Lady Franklin he intended to withhold from the public some startling facts he had discovered, among which was the positive proof that some of Sir John Franklin's men had eaten each other in the throes of starvation on the journey from Prince of Wales Island. He had made a thorough exploration of the locality and found indisputable evidence of cannibalism. He had also ascertained that the character of the Esquimaux in that part of the country was extremely bad, but he did not say much on the subject, intending to publish all upon his return to America. I intend sending the papers to the Secretary of the Navy to make what disposition of them he may deem proper. Captain Hall was very anxious [illegible] and would not take them with him on the Polaris.

From what you know of the circumstances do you regard the death of Captain Hall from apoplexy a strange event?

I did not believe it until the [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] OF THE TIGRESS.

GODHAVEN, DISKO ISLAND, August [illegible], 187[illegible].

The steamer Tigress returned from the north. Few knew it, for it was just daylight and nearly all the inhabitants of [illegible], all anxious for the fate of the missing crew, were wrapped in slumber. The vessel steams slowly into the little rock-bound harbor; the word has passed fore and aft, and in less time than it takes to tell it the incoming steamer is watched by many with mingled feelings of wonder and curiosity and fear. Has she succeeded?

TO THE SCENE OF ACTION.

It was Sunday morning when the Tigress dropped anchor at Upernavik. Her commander manifested considerable zeal and energy in making his final preparations and was heartily cooperated with by the commanding officer of his faithful consort, the Juniata. She was again coaled on August 11th and the entire arrangements having been satisfactorily completed, steamed out to meet her foe, the ice, and bring back to civilization the lost ones about whom the world was so much concerned. Amid three rousing cheers from the men of the Juniata—away far up in the rigging where the simultaneous shout made the welkin ring—she started on her mission. That she might succeed was the wish of all, and when in token of farewell, her flag was seen dipping in the distance, her great mission was appreciated more than ever. A heartier God-speed no vessel was ever blessed with. Prepared for all emergencies the Tigress commenced her task. How she performed it will soon appear.

Everything considered, the prospects were encouraging. Buoyed with hope and eager to carry out the objects of the undertaking the Tigress steamed ahead. At times the speed was slackened and powerful glasses were brought to bear upon the desolate shore, but every effort was in vain. No sign of life or human habitation could be discerned, and the vessel steamed onward. Cape Dudley Digges and other points were passed in quick succession. The object of the search was still ahead. Cheerily moved the staunch and stable craft, and every man on board now thoroughly aroused to the fact that a triumph was near at hand joined in the general verdict that the Tigress would add laurels to the American Navy.

FAMILIAR LANDMARKS.

Tyson and some of the survivors whose escape on the ice floe so startled the world were now on deck. What a recollection the present scene recalled to them! They were approaching the spot where the Polaris mystery had its birth. Strange enough, too, Northumberland Island in sight and yet not a soul of the rescued party recognized it as the place where the Polaris was last seen by the people on the drifting ice floe. Sergeant Meyers, if I remember rightly, stated that this was the fatal spot—Northumberland Island—the scene where the curtain fell, so to speak, and where the exploring vessel was forever lost to sight. But the party on board did not recognize it and the inference was that Mr Meyers had made a mistake. The Tigress having skirted the island steamed ahead. There was not a familiar landmark to be seen. On sped the vessel past the deserted camp at Netlik—once a well known settlement, now bereft of refuge—and thence to Whale Sound, and still the scene was unfamiliar. Meyers' chart was wrong.

THE ICE.

Hitherto the progress of the Tigress had been rapid. The season was unusually open. Had the object of the expedition been scientific instead of humane she could probably have gone farther north than any vessel that had ever preceded her. Up to this time the obstructions were trifling, and it was not until the vessel had left Northumberland Island that the old floe ice made its appearance. But the Tigress found no difficulty in making her way, for in the evening of the 14th she passed Cape Alexander and then hugged the shore of Hartstene Bay.

FAMILIAR SCENES.

The Tyson party, or rather the few of the famous ice-floe survivors who had accompanied the expedition, had hitherto remained silent, though watching keenly every landmark made so painfully familiar by former experience. As Cape Ohlsen was rounded the rocks in the vicinity were at once recognized as those which shut out the view of the Polaris and shortly after the Tigress steamed toward Littleton Island. It was now continuous daylight so that the operations were rendered comparatively easy. At a quarter past nine o'clock P M a boat was lowered and a party directed to make preliminary examination. All hands were on deck and the greatest interest and anxiety prevailed. The boat had not gone fifty lengths from the ship when Commander Greer, who was on the bridge minutely scanning the surroundings, commanded silence. A deathly stillness succeeded, only to be broken by the faint sound of human voices which gradually became more distinct. It was thought, too, that a cheer was heard from shore. The retreating boat was ordered to pull in the direction whence the sound was heard.

"I SEE THEM, I SEE THEM."

Commander Greer continued to examine the shore with powerful glasses but suddenly cried exultingly,

"I see them! I see them!" A thrill of emotion went through every heart. Following with the eye the direction pointed out could now be plainly seen some moving figures, wearing it was thought sailors' uniforms, and a house and two tents. It was now believed that the great task had been performed and mutual congratulations passed quickly on the apparently successful issue of the search expedition.

DISAPPOINTMENT.

In about an hour the boat returned from shore. All hands crowded to the ship's side ready to receive the joyful news, but they were destined to be disappointed. The parties seen on shore were Esquimaux, from whom the information was received that Captain Buddington and party, fourteen in all, had passed the winter on the mainland and having constructed two boats from the ship started south to Cape York in hope of meeting some rescuing vessel. As near as possible the time was fixed at the middle of June for the Esquimaux counted by moons, and the date therefore could not be accurately determined. They were also informed that the Polaris having broke from her moorings in a heavy gale had drifted into an adjoining cove and sunk. Then there was the further discouraging intelligence that not a complete record could be found by which some light could be thrown on the movements of the missing party. Worse than that, it was seen that the hand of destruction had been at work, for here and there were scattered broken instruments of every kind, torn and mutilated books and log books. Many of these articles were picked up and taken to the ship. In a tattered book was found the information of the departure of the missing crew. Written in pencil and hardly legible was an entry bearing date May 18, [illegible] to the following effect:

[illegible]

There was no signature. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] men, women and two children—not now dressed in sailors' clothes as when first seen from the Tigress but wearing the characteristic apparel of their own people. In reply to an interrogatory they stated they and had passed the winter with Captain Buddington, who before he left had given them the Polaris, but that about two weeks after their departure a heavy gale came on, breaking up the ice, and that the vessel after drifting about two miles had sunk off the mainland. They subsequently pointed out the place, and it was found that the wreck lay in nine fathoms of water. A small iceberg had grounded over it. No effort was made to examine the sunken vessel.

A SCENE OF CONFUSION.

That the destruction of the instruments was deliberate there could be no doubt. The broken pieces lay scattered about in all directions. Books and manuscripts were torn with design, but what the object was could hardly be conjectured. That the instruments were thus wantonly smashed by Buddington and his party it was difficult to believe, and so the theory prevailed that the Esquimaux, unacquainted with their use, had done the damage. Some more manuscript was found but its discovery threw no light on the subject.

THE DESERTED HUT.

The Esquimaux were reticent but seemingly well disposed. They conducted the party to the deserted camp where Buddington and his men had passed the winter. The place was desolate-looking. The frame of the building had been made from the ship's spars and covered over with canvas. It contained a long black walnut extension dining table and chairs taken from the ship, and ranged on either side were fourteen bunks, where the parties had slept. Among other articles to be seen was the ship's galley stove. The Esquimaux had now converted the place to their own use and turned it into a blubber house, from which issued the peculiar smell so characteristic of the Esquimaux habitations.

The Esquimaux, it should be mentioned, stated that they had very little provision and no boats, and asked to be taken to Pond's Bay, but Commander Greer did not accede to their request and they were left behind.

The attendance this morning was scarcely two-thirds that of yesterday, many of the visitors going home yesterday on the trains which leave this place at 4 P. M. daily going north and south. But few people came up from Portland this morning and none were on the train coming down from St. Joe. However the grounds presented a very animated appearance long before noon, as the main business part of the Fair was completed last night and the people were passing to and fro to see the sights, while those who made the Fair ground a place for merchandise, were making every effort to dispose of their wares, straining the throat and lungs in urging the people to "come right forward now, and secure the best bargains ever offered in Oregon." Patent medicine men were loudly descanting on the virtues of their respective nostrums in curing everything from a corn on the toe to a broken neck. The Marshals were riding through the crowd announcing the programme of the day and calling out the premium animals for parade, another informing the people that Jack Lee, of "Wilson's world renowned circus," would make one of his celebrated ascensions in his mammoth balloon from the grounds at noon.

The animals were paraded at ten o'clock, and presented an appearance that was creditable to Washington county, to the Agricultural Society and to the exhibition generally, but the balloon ascension came near being a failure, as the balloon caught fire while it was being inflated, and had a large hole burnt in it, so that although it was sent up, the aeronaut remained on terra-firma.

The following are the names of the horses and owners to whom premiums were awarded by the Society. Owing to some misunderstanding in regard to thoroughbreds, to which we briefly alluded in yesterday's report, no premiums were given to horses of that class.

DAIRY PRODUCTS AND HOUSEWORK.

In this class there are a very large number of entries and to go through the Secretary's books and make a detailed report would require more time and space than is allowed us. The lady exhibitors are entitled to the greatest credit for the fine display in this department. Among those who have been awarded premiums we note the following, several of whom took a number of premiums each in different articles: N [illegible] and M Gibson, A Morrow, N J Lindsey, Kate Gibson, E H Warren, J Longacre, L I McMillen, Mrs Leabo, Mrs Clements, J W Larue, Lena Zimmerman, M A Munger, Mrs M Phillips, Mrs D Lennox, Mrs I Betts, Mrs Askins.

GRAIN FIELDS, GRAIN, [illegible] AND VEGETABLES.

The exhibit of samples in this class was the best as to quality, though limited in [illegible] than we have ever seen in Oregon, and [illegible] compare favorably with [illegible] of any in the world. We only have room for the names of those to whom premiums [illegible] awarded. They were C W Purdin, J. F[illegible]man, C. H. Walker, N. W. Smith, Robert Imbrie, George Mon[illegible], P. M. J[illegible], J. [illegible] Rowell, John Milne, S H[illegible], W. O. [illegible], G [illegible], J. F. P[illegible], [illegible] P. Wi[illegible], E. H. Wa[illegible], [illegible] land N[illegible] Company, S. W. [illegible] Wooley.

THE [illegible] MATCH.

For the prize awarded to the best [illegible] there were eight contestants. The [illegible] was David McBride, who carried off the premium and the [illegible], J. A. [illegible] taking $5 and the [illegible].

THE RACES TO-DAY.

Having devoted the forenoon to the Secretary's books, to a [illegible] who had [illegible] tunate enough to secure [illegible] in the afternoon to the [illegible] exciting [illegible] of the trials of speed.

The first race was mile [illegible], best 3 in 5, two-thirds of the [illegible] of [illegible] the first, and $100 for the [illegible], but [illegible] two entries, Dan Young's [illegible] and Wm White's [illegible]. The start was at one o'clock P. M., quite a number of pools having been sold at about 5 [illegible] to 4 on Welch. [illegible] Wilcox, Wm. Aiken, and [illegible] have won the [illegible] the position. On the [illegible] about two lengths at the start, and [illegible] a [illegible] in the round, [illegible] lengths [illegible] in 1.58½. The [illegible] both [illegible] of the first [illegible] first half of the [illegible] [illegible] ing on the home stretch [illegible] in 2.0[illegible], and the [illegible]. The [illegible] of any [illegible] this should not be [illegible].

The next match was [illegible] Jim, entered by Dick Fu[illegible], [illegible] Aiken, and Mary Thom[illegible] by [illegible] a single dash of half a mile, [illegible] 56 [illegible].

"A RACE AS WAS A [illegible]"

The [illegible] trials of [illegible] der to have [illegible] [illegible] ties, Mr. H. Boyd [illegible] a race of a mile and [illegible] free to all [illegible] whose [illegible] ing to [illegible], had the [illegible] ber of entries, [illegible] could not [illegible] on the turf. [illegible] but the following [illegible] to run [illegible] the [illegible], as six out of [illegible] were distanced in the [illegible] tions they occupied [illegible] first heat [illegible] per, having the [illegible] Moin Bally, to L Hayes, B [illegible] A. Smith, Scoeshin, to W. G. [illegible] to Dan Smith, Khetal Jim, to [illegible] king Tecumseh, to Mr C[illegible] Harry Crane, to W. B[illegible], and [illegible] Mr. McIntyre. At the tap by the [illegible] horses were brought up in front of [illegible] in the order named, all [illegible] the score, just touching [illegible] the track. Orders [illegible] the [illegible] should keep his place [illegible] mand forgotten as soon as the [illegible] As the judges sent them off [illegible] to welt his horse with his whip, and [illegible] ning, and such a dust and [illegible] crowd we never saw [illegible]. The whole was the most hilarious, "uproarious" [illegible] taringest" helter skelter contest that has been seen on the turf in Oregon. We [illegible] not time to describe it, nor could we, if [illegible] had, for words would fail. Suffice it to say Mr. Boyd ought to feel highly [illegible] the result of his liberality, and the "[illegible] Purse" will be the object of the [illegible] contests at Washington County [illegible] after.

CLOSING REMARKS.

For four days we have [illegible] on the [illegible] gathering our reports, and though we [illegible] have done some injustice by our [illegible] have aimed to bestow [illegible] due, and faithfully to present to our [illegible] the main points of interest in [illegible] selves during the meeting. The [illegible] form us that the Fair has been a [illegible] we believe it and are glad of it for the [illegible] gers' sakes, as they have been uniformly courteous and accommodating to the [illegible] of the press, furnishing all information most freely. In the name of the Press we thank them, and the seventh and best [illegible] exhibition of the Washington County Agricultural Society is closed.

The total amount of gate money, [illegible] fees and pay for licenses cannot yet be ascertained, as much confusion ex[illegible] incident to the close of the Fair, but that the Society will realize a handsome profit on the Exhibition is generally believed.

FRIDAY MORNING OCTOBER 3 1873

WILL SENATOR MITCHELL EXPLAIN?

The Senate Committee on Transportation, as is well known, at a meeting held just after the adjournment of the special session of the Senate, commissioned Senators Eugene Casserly, of California and John H. Mitchell of Oregon to gather information concerning the commercial interests of the Pacific States and Territories. The data thus collected are to be laid before the next Congress and these statistics, enforced by the representations of the committee, must be the basis of legislation for this coast. Shortly after receiving its commission, this sub-committee was called to meet in San Francisco. At that meeting Senator Casserly alone appeared. A gentleman by the name of Capp was appointed to collect statistics and such miscellaneous information as would prove of value in enabling Congress to act intelligently on the all-important subject of transportation routes on the Pacific coast. That was all that was done, if we except this. A note from Senator Mitchell was read, briefly stating that it would be impossible for him to be in attendance. Capp has not been heard from since that day. Of course he will have his hands full in attending to the single State of California. Besides it is a fact pretty thoroughly demonstrated by a bitter experience reaching through long years, that California is not interested to any great degree in the material prosperity of Oregon. So long as she can enjoy the fruits of a stolen reputation, gotten by constant practice of fraud in claiming the credit which belongs to the products of our matchless soil and climate, she is content to have Oregon known as a northern county of California.

It occurs to us that Senator Mitchell's conduct in this matter calls for some explanation. There remain but a few weeks before the Forty-third Congress will meet. He will then be called to account for his stewardship. What has he done? The people of Oregon have a right to an answer. There are rivers to be improved, there are canals to be dug, there are highways to be opened. The Willamette is closed to navigation during a good part of the year. The water-routes of this valley are thus rendered well-nigh useless and competition in marketing the crops is impossible, just at a time when the farmer most needs it. In such a season a monopoly seizes the producer by the throat and compels the payment of unusual rates, making its [illegible] keep pace with the rise in the price of [illegible]. Here is a subject which [illegible] the most faithful study of our [illegible] that of the Committee on Transportation.

Columbia river is the gateway to a rich [illegible] of [illegible] lands, which are at [illegible] practically worthless, simply because the farmers of [illegible] Oregon have [illegible] facilities for sending their [illegible] to tide water. They clamor for relief, and their complaint should receive thoughtful attention. There needs to be a canal and locks at the Cascade [illegible], through which the fertile valleys of [illegible] Oregon may send their rich [illegible] to the waiting sea. We cannot in the brief limits of this article enumerate the thousand blessings which a public-spirited Republican Senator and Representative could confer on Oregon by [illegible] and energetic attention to these [illegible] of state. Not in Oregon alone but in Washington Territory are great internal improvements waiting to be accomplished. Washington Territory has only a Delegate in the National Legislature, and his sphere of action is contracted and narrow. Our delegation in Congress should afford a generous aid to this vast empire of unrivaled resources. In all [illegible] the people of the Northwest [illegible] expect, and they have the right to [illegible], a hearty, zealous champion in Senator Mitchell. The times are calling [illegible] for men of integrity and ability, [illegible] advocates of the people, staunch defenders of popular rights against haughty monopolies. Has our Senator [illegible] any disposition whatever to stand between the people and their masters? Has he interposed the threat that unless these extortions cease he will invoke the legislative power—will he lift his voice and [illegible] his vote to dethrone the tyrants?

The Committee in the Eastern States have traveled all over the Atlantic seaboard from Florida to Canada during the past summer. They have labored faithfully and the fruit of their labors is manifest in the columns of every Eastern exchange that comes to our table. Their visit to Montreal elicited the boast of Canada, that Montreal was preparing to wrest the sceptre of commercial supremacy from the metropolis of the United States. New York has taken the warning and in her diligent preparations to avert the threatened calamity, we behold ample evidence of the fidelity of Senators Windom, Sherman, Norwood, Conkling and others to the trust reposed in them. But we have not heard of Senator Mitchell's writing a line or traveling a rod in the performance of his duty. He has not notified the people through the press—as have other members of the Committee—that he would be pleased to have them contribute items of information relative to the requirements of different sections of our State. He has not even visited the points of chief importance to ascertain their wants and counsel with the people on the best methods for satisfying them. This, then, is a pertinent inquiry. What has Senator Mitchell been doing while his colleagues were diligently working?

HINTS TOWARD AN ANSWER.

We can suggest one or two things which may be embodied in any explanation the Bulletin may desire to make in behalf of Senator Mitchell and in defense of his shameful neglect of duty as a member of the Senate Committee on Transportation. While his colleagues have undertaken tedious journeys and devoted the season usually spent in relaxation from burdensome duties at the seaside, our Senator has been exercising his talents in the following ways, to-wit:

First—In packing a convention of the people to secure an endorsement of his felonies.

Second—In perverting the Federal patronage of Oregon to an ignoble use in order to obtain at the hands of men who are dependent upon his favor for their bread and butter a resolution certifying to the Senate of the United States that the bearer who escaped the penitentiary only by virtue of the statute of limitations is an honorable and upright gentleman.

Third—In subsidizing a subservient press whose sole aim seems to be to drive God out of the universe and conscience from politics.

Fourth—In devising ways and means by which Hiram Smith, the scapegoat for his social crimes, may stagger into Congress, bearing his burden of seduction, desertion and bigamy on the Albany apparey.

Fifth—Since his arrival from Washington the greater portion of his time has been spent in Mr. Holladay's house, where with his accomplices of the Bulletin he matured the plan by which the Republican party of Oregon was to be forced through their attachment to the organization to endorse his crimes.

During all this time he has been drawing a salary of $625 per month—compensation for a duty never performed. We do not wonder that that high-minded gentleman, Eugene Casserly, shunned all association with our bigamous Senator.

Farmers of Oregon, how do you like the prospect?

CRUELTY TO DUMB ANIMALS.

If any evidence were wanting to convict the Custom House ring of most shameful hypocrisy in their support of the Albany platform, it was furnished in a little incident that happened here last evening. All day long the whole force of Custom House sinecures were wearily working at putting up in wrappers and mailing to different points, huge bundles of campaign documents—tracts issued by the Society for the Propagation of Bigamy and Youthful Indiscretions. When darkness came on, the whole gang were ranged along the vestibule in front of a certain Federal office in this city, and there they bent down to receive their loads. To some was accorded the special dignity of carrying the odorous burdens in clothes-baskets. So these poor creatures, "too proud to beg, too honest to steal," and too lazy to work, plodded wearily along to the Postoffice. They never murmured, for they are dumb unless asked to take a drink, when they invariably respond with a "Thank you." The Albany platform pronounces in unequivocal terms against "the Coolie trade and all forms of involuntary servitude." Yet here in this most Christian city, under the civilization of the nineteenth century, is a despotism more degrading than the Coolie traffic. Some measure should be taken for the relief of these poor wretches who are sighing their sad lives away on salaries ranging from $1,200 to $1,800 a year. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is the only institution capable of dealing with the case.

OBSCENE LITERATURE.

We call the attention of Thomas G. Young, United States Marshal for the District of Oregon, to the fact that there are now being sent through the United States mails from this city to different parts of Oregon, five thousand extra copies of the New Northwest, five thousand extra copies of the Daily Bulletin and an uncomputed number of copies of the Salem Statesman, all of which publications are in violation of an Act of Congress prohibiting the publication and sale of and all kinds of traffic in obscene literature. These are ostensibly campaign documents. In reality they are defenses of bigamy, seduction and other social crimes. They are intended to propagate the worst social vices, to destroy the sanctity of the marriage tie, and break down the barriers to crime which a wise jurisprudence has placed before the youth of this land. We demand the suppression of these documents.

A very great degree of hostility to the ordinance recently adopted by the Council of New York city authorizing the expenditure of $6,000,000 for the building of a new prison has developed in the Board of Aldermen. It is urged by the opponents of the project that to build the City Prison on Canal street, as proposed, would be to destroy an immense business and flourishing industries. It is stated that thirty millions of dollars have been invested in the furniture business in the immediate vicinity of the proposed site, and that this business would be destroyed. Canal street, say they, is to the furniture trade just what Wall street is to finance. Moreover the memorialists urge that they have for many years been laboring to elevate the morals of Canal street and the influence of the prison would be injurious. Perhaps of all the objections the best founded is that which alleges that before the city could get through with the work the cost would be double the appropriation. It is alleged that the Tombs can be repaired and enlarged for $250,000 so as to be serviceable for years to come. The New York papers generally support the remonstrance.

We hope it isn't too late to tender our sympathies to the unfortunate hearers of Dr. George B. Loring, who delivered the oration at the two hundredth anniversary of the settlement of Dunstable, Mass., on Tuesday afternoon last. began its preparation on the morning of Monday and completed in season for delivery 101 manuscript pages which are declared to have contained a careful historical sketch of all the important events in the history of the town, sketches of its leading men and a due proportion of philosophical reasoning on the incidents recited. The address, if delivered in full, would have required nearly two hours.

After keeping a world in suspense for four long months, ex-Governor Henry A. Wise finally rises to explain. In a letter to Joseph Sugar of Washington City, he says:

I am in a word, really and anxious to [illegible]. I will give up my prejudices and make my sacrifice of past opinions now to raise up the fallen head of my mother State. I will cooperate with any as of old to make Virginia what she ought to be and can be made by proper effort.

The past cannot be mended; after all it may have been for the best, at least so far as material development is concerned. And liberty or not, Constitution saved or not saved or not, Virginia must be made strong to maintain her own in any condition of things. In this I not only will unite, but beg to lend what I can do or direct in the cause.

We wish the whole South would endorse that sentiment. We should then hear no more of wars and rumors of wars of Ku Klux, and the awful ferocity of the average Southerner.

At a Sunday School concert recently at Atlanta the following occurred: Little fellow (reciting his verse)—"I am the Bread of Life." Superintendent (questioning him as to his knowledge of the Bible)—"Who said 'I am the Bread of Life'?" Little fellow (in surprise)—"I said it."

NIL DESPERANDUM!

Lively Times Ahead!

ISAAC BLUM'S thousand-and-one patrons will be glad to learn that he is again in receipt of those old and favorite private brands, which in flush times used to occasion such a rush to his Cigar Stand, namely the "ESPANOLAS" and "DELICIAS," considered by connoisseurs the best 12 1-2 cent Cigars in the market.

The "OREGON BABY" still flourishes, and this and the "PROGRESS CLUB" Cigars come regularly to hand, and recent invoices are recommended as being of better quality than ever.

Imported Cigars received by every steamer, among these a choice Cigar, (WARRANTED GENUINE HAVANA IMPORTATION,) which will be sold TWO FOR 25 CENTS. These Cigars are NOT very profitable to the seller but they suit the consumer, which is all that is required.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 3, 1873.

CITY.

A Bear in Imitation.—At the saloon of Alex Campbell can be seen a novel sight. It consists of a perfect imitation of a bear, about the size of a half grown cat. The color of the hair and the shape of the artificial animal is so true to nature that to discover the illusion one must examine it closely. Some machinery is placed inside the stuffed animal, which is wound up similar to a clock. When the machine is set in motion, it causes the object to assume a variety of grotesque attitudes which are so natural that one would be ready to take an oath that it was a live creature. The head is caused to turn from side to side the fore paws to move about, the jaws to distend and suddenly close, the body to sway to and fro, and the small glass eyes to fiercely gaze about. The whirring of the wheels very closely resembles the growls of an enraged bear, and tends to heighten the deception. It is one of the most clever attempts at an imitation of nature which we have seen anywhere. Such a sham bruin would draw immensely if placed in a conspicuous show window.

Bound Homeward.—The Sentinel says: "The Rev Mother Caron, Mother-General of the Sisters of Charity of the House of Providence, who has been on this coast for several months, visiting the different establishments of her Order in the Diocese of Nesqually, left here last week via San Francisco, for her home in Canada. The Rev Mother is accompanied by Sisters Agnes and Armine, who will make the tour of the Eastern States for the purpose of asking the assistance of the rich and charitable in the building of their new Convent and Orphan Asylum at Vancouver. Several Eastern prelates, among them the Archbishops of Cincinnati and St Louis, have given their permission to collect in their respective Dioceses.

Statistics.—The attendance at Taylor street M. E Sunday school for September aggregates 1,079, average, including concerts, 270; average, not including concerts, 235; average of officers and teachers, 34; average of Infant Class, 49½. For quarter ending Sept 8th, average, including concerts, 251¼; average, not including concerts, 211¼, average of officers and teachers, 34½; average of Infant Class, 39¼; number of officers and teachers enrolled, 43. On Wednesday evening last the following officers were elected: Superintendent, J. K. Gill, Lady Superintendent, Mrs. Sarah V. Hall, Assistant Superintendent, J. F. Meston; Treasurer, E. W. Cornell; Secretary, J. F. Clarke, Librarian, Fred Mathews.

Omitted.—In our account on Thursday of the improvements made and in progress in the burnt district, we unintentionally omitted to mention the partial rebuilding and refitting of the two brick buildings at the corner of Yamhill and First streets. These buildings belong to Mr. L. H. Wakefield and Dr. J. G. Glenn. Both were badly damaged by the fire, but have been repaired and are now in better condition than before the flames reached them. The buildings are finished, and one is already occupied.

Anniversary.—Next Friday evening, Oct. 10th, being the anniversary of Father Mathew's birth, Mr. S. J. McCormick will repeat his lecture upon the life and labors of that apostle of temperance. The lecture will be held under the auspices of the Father Mathew T. A. B. Society. The object, together with the well known ability of Mr. McCormick as a lecturer and a vocalist, should certainly be sufficient to fill Philharmonic Hall to overflowing on that occasion.

Fines and Costs Remitted.—We learn that Gov. Grover has ordered that the fines and costs be remitted in the case of Wm. Squires and son, of Tillamook. These parties, it will be remembered, were tried in that county at the last term of Circuit Court, on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon and convicted. Wm. Squires, the father, was fined $200, and James Squires, the son, $100. The order was issued by the Governor on the 1st instant.

A Handsome Compass.—Mr. L. Rau, the skillful instrument maker, near the corner of Oak and First streets, is at present engaged in making and has nearly finished a superb surveying compass, which he proposes to exhibit at the State Fair. He has made the instrument entirely himself, which, considering its intricate and delicate mechanism, is saying much for his skill as a workman. The instrument will be, when completed, a perfect beauty.

Dry Houses Burned.—A gentleman just from Clackamas county, informs us that within the past week two houses used for drying fruit, caught fire and were destroyed. One of these houses belonged to Mr. Alex. Marks, and the other to Jacob Roop, both of whom reside near Needy. The buildings were worth several hundred dollars each. A considerable quantity of partially dried fruit was lost by the fire.

Accommodation Steamer.—In order to avail of the tide at the present low stage of water, the steamer John L. Stephens will take her departure down the river to-day at 2 o'clock. The steamer will stop at some point down the river and be joined to-morrow by the Senator. This boat will leave here promptly to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock with passengers, baggage, mails and express.

Refractory.—A large band of refractory beef cattle were attempted to be driven on the Stark street ferry yesterday afternoon. About half went on board, when all turned tail and ran away, despite the efforts of the drover to head them off. At length they were induced at the end of the whiplash to trust themselves on the boat, and were conveyed to the opposite shore.

To be Organized.—We understand that there is a movement "afloat" among our young men which, judging from appearances, will prove a success. It is the organization of a Mock Legislature, the first meeting of which is to be held in the County Court-room this evening, at 7 o'clock. All those intending to take part are requested to be on hand promptly.

Iron Rod.—Mr. Evans, of the Signal Service corps, has caused to be erected above Parrish's building a telescopic iron rod, on the top of which he has placed the anemometer with the telegraphic connections attached. The rod is about 23 feet high—a sufficient altitude to be unaffected by the counter currents of wind caused by the surrounding buildings.

Time of Filing.—The law provides that attorneys must file complaints in the office of the County Clerk ten days prior to the convening of the Circuit Court. As the Court will convene on Tuesday, 14th inst. to-morrow will be the last day on which complaints in civil cases can be filed. Attorneys should not be unmindful of this fact.

Poll Books.—One week from next Monday the special election for Congressman will be held. The County Clerk has completed the poll books, and caused them to be delivered to the judges of the election. Each precinct in this county is entitled to two copies of the poll books.

Raked the Bottom.—The steamer Governor Grover arrived here last week from up the river. Yesterday morning the boat ran aground at Union Bar, and was detained some time. At McClosky's Bar she scraped heavily, but run the gauntlet without stoppage.

Courts to Convene.—Next Monday morning the County Court, Judge Hamilton, presiding, will convene. On the same day the United States Circuit Court will also meet. The Circuit Court for Multnomah county will begin on the 14th inst.

Flag Flying.—As the Hibernian Benevolent Society held their grand concert and ball last evening, all day yesterday the Emerald flag of the "Harp and Sun Burst" was floating proudly from the top of the staff over Ankeny's Hall.

Attendance.—The attendance at the public schools of the city is unusually large and all appear very prosperous. At North Portland school under the management of Prof Freeman, there is a daily average attendance of 263.

Will Sail.—To-day at 2 o'clock P. M. the steamship John L. Stephens will sail with passengers and freight for San Francisco.

Race Boat.—The Olympia Courier says: The North Pacific, on the 24th ult brought over from Victoria a race boat, for some one at Portland. The whole thing, including sculls and out rigging, don't weigh over 50 pounds. She will be apt to make the natives stare over there on fresh water. The boat will be shipped for Portland on the Telfair.

Lumber at Auction.—To-day at 10 A. M. is the time selected for the auction sale of lumber at the lumber yard in Caruthers' Addition, between Lincoln and Grant streets. This will probably be a rare chance to invest.

Rolls Delivered.—Assessor Dolan went up to Salem yesterday morning, taking with him a copy of the assessment rolls which he will lay before the Board of Equalization now in session there.

Change of Superintendents.—Mr John H Moores, who has been superintendent of the Willamet Iron Works has resigned his position, and Mr. James Lotan is appointed his successor.

Treasure Received.—Forty thousand dollars were received by Wells, Fargo & Co. on the last steamer. Over $400,000 has been received from below within the past month.

At the Lower Mill.—Yesterday morning the Emma Hayward towed down the bark Woodward to the sawmill below the city. She will receive a cargo of lumber for Hongkong.

Tug Sedalia.—This tug having received the boiler and machinery on board, has been towed down the river, where the upper works will be built.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Major Eggleston brought back from Cassia diggings, British Columbia, a nugget weighing $22. It is of a bright beautiful yellow color, and appears to be of a fine quality.

The Salt Lake theater opened on the 1st inst. Among the artists in the Company are Kate Denin, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crosbie and J. H. Vinson—the latter acting as stage manager.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Hodge, Calef & Co., elsewhere.

Mr. S. L. Stone has resumed business at 125 First street, as his ads elsewhere will imply.

The firm of McGee & Co. has been changed to McGee, O'Toole & Co., Wm. O'Toole having been admitted as a partner, and who will have full charge of the business in this city.

The firm of Atkinson, Woodward & Co., has been dissolved, Mr. Tyler Woodword retiring. We commend the new firm to all interested in the purchase or sale of real estate, renting of houses, etc.

Six weeks ago Mr. Dittenhoefer established at 59 Front street, and has already obtained a large share of business. He solicits additional trade, and to push things, continues to advertise. Our readers are referred to his card.

J. F. Jones & Co. have re-established at their old stand, Front street, between Salmon and Main, where they are better prepared than ever to produce the best qualities of coffee, spices, etc. Send in your orders and they will be filled promptly.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL, ETC.

(From the P. C Advocate.)

Rev. A. B. Smith, recently from California, has assumed charge of the Zion M. E. Church in this city.

Rev. Wm. McPheeters gave us a call last week on his way to Salem, to take pastoral charge of the M. E. Church at that place.

Mr. S. C. Foster and son, of South Yamhill circuit, went out on the last steamer for a visit to their numerous friends in Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan.

The Missionary Concert of the Taylor street M. E. Sunday School for October, will be held on next Sunday at 2 o'clock P. M. A programme of exercises has been prepared that we think will prove both interesting and profitable.

The Sunday School concert held on last evening at the Hall street M. E. Church, Rev T. F. Royal pastor, was very largely attended, and the exercises throughout were interesting and highly creditable to all concerned. The following programme was adhered to: 1. singing, 2. prayer; 3. salutatory, by Eddie Maxwell; 4. singing; 5. class exercises, by fourteen boys and girls; 6. solo, by Mollie Caples, 7 recitation, Miss Mary Combs, 8. quartette, "Sweeping Through the Gates;" 9. address, by Hon. J. F. Caples; 10. Latin poem, L. Royal, 11. reading; 12 solo and chorus, 13. valedictory, R. Ball, 14. closing remarks by M. G. Royal.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES ON THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Rev. Mr Medbury, of this city, received a few days' since, the following notice from Salem:

It is proposed to hold religious services at the Fair Grounds on Sunday next, October 5th, at 4 o'clock P. M., and to continue the same services during the week following, if permission of the Board of Managers can be obtained. All who can sing are especially requested to attend.

The above letter is signed by the following pastors of Salem: John H. Babcock, Episcopal Church, J. Bowersox, Evangelical Lutheran Church; E. J. Dawne, M. E. Church South, Addison Jones, Baptist Church, P. S. Knight, Congregational Church, Wm. McPheeters, M. E. Church, G. W. Richardson, Christian Church, William R. Stewart, Presbyterian Church. Ministers in attendance at the Fair from Portland and other portions of the State, are cordially invited to attend and assist in conducting religious services during the coming week.

PERSONAL.

Prof McGibeny and wife are in Corvallis.

Archbishop Blanchet took his departure from this city a few days ago bound for Eastern Oregon.

Among the passengers by the outgoing steamer will be Mrs. Judge Wyche, of Washington Territory. This estimable lady goes in search of a milder climate for the benefit of her daughter May, who for some time past has been in poor health. Friends of Mrs. Wyche will wish her great success in this mission of maternal love and will hope to see both mother and daughter returning with greatly improved health.

A CARD.

The Committee of Arrangements desire to tender their sincere thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly volunteered to assist on the occasion of the concert on last evening given by the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society.

COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Sisters of St Mary's Academy appreciating the kindness extended them by Mr. Levi Estes, desire that their heartfelt gratitude be tendered to the charitable Superintendent for his generous invitation to the Sisters to ride gratis in the street cars.

AMUSEMENTS.

Ankeny's Hall was well filled last evening, on the occasion of the concert given under the auspices of the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society. There were present about five hundred persons composed of the most cultivated and refined of our city. On the occasion a very excellent programme was presented, and rendered in corresponding style. The entertainment began with a grand overture "Stradella" (Flotow) rendered in splendid style by the orchestra composed of fourteen pieces, under the direction of Mr. S. Harris. This was followed by a vocal duet, "List to the Convent Bells," by Miss Katie Richards and Mr H. L. Herman. This selection was rendered in a happy manner, eliciting from the audience warm applause and a hearty encore. The next on the programme was a vocal solo by Mr S. J. McCormick, entitled the "Irish Emigrant." He won hearty plaudits and an encore. Miss Rahles next performed a piano solo, "Invitation a la Valse" (Von Weber). This lady evinced great skill and splendid execution in the rendering of the difficult selection, and was encored at the end of the performance. "The Harp that once through Tara's Hall," was next beautifully rendered by Mrs. G. L. De Prans. That lady fairly took the house by storm, and was compelled to reappear on the stage and sing "Eily Mavourneen," before the audience were satisfied. "Wein Galop," (Herzog), was next given by the Portland band in their most dashing style. Following this came a waltz, "Casino Tanze," (Gungl) by the full orchestra, with fine effect. Miss Richards sang pleasingly a ballad, which gained her applause and an encore. Messrs DePrans and Hatch rendered very beautifully a piano and organ duet, "I Dreamed I Dwelt in Marble Halls." Prolonged applause and a hearty encore was won by these gentlemen from the audience. A grand march, "En Avant," (Gungl), rendered by the orchestra, likewise won its meed of applause. One of the most pleasing features of the entertainment was a vocal solo rendered by Mr. Wm. R. Boone, "The Oregon Boy," in full costume. This young gentleman possesses a very pleasant and tolerably well cultivated voice, partaking strongly of feminine characteristics. He sang "Bell Brandon" in first rate style, and received a well earned encore. The closing selection of the entertainment was a "Medley on Irish Airs, (Yost) by the Portland band.

The entire concert passed off in a satisfactory manner. It was a creditable affair in all respects, and quite substantial in its results. Nearly $500 will be realized from the concert, which sum will be applied toward the erection of a new hall for the Society.

After the concert was over the immense hall was cleared of the seats, and dancing began. Many who attended the concert remained at the ball, and many more came to attend the ball after the first part was over.

Altogether it was one of the most pleasant and successful affairs which has been given in Portland the present season.

GENERAL NOTES.

"James Jenkins," said a schoolmaster to his pupil, "what is an average?" "A thing, sir," answered the scholar, promptly, "that hens lay eggs on." "Why do you say that, you silly boy?" asked the pedagogue. "Because, sir," said the youth, "I heard a gentleman say the other day that a hen would lay, on an average, twenty eggs a year."

A correspondent is at a loss, and says: "Can any one adduce an instance of a really new surname having been adopted by any person within recent years? I am cognizant of persons having changed their surnames, but I have not heard of any one (except in fiction) coining or striking out a new surname." The correspondent ought to interview Senator Mitchell (nee Hipple) on the subject, when the latter returns to Washington.

An excellent story is current, and deserves mention. A most gallant, decorated and distinguished officer of the British force was lately President of a Court-martial. He had sworn a witness, a raw Irish recruit, and held out his hand for the Bible. Judge of his astonishment at finding it—the hand, not the book—grasped and heartily shaken by Pat, who, in the very broadest brogue, said, "It's myself who is proud and pleased to hould the hand of ye, sir, and may Saint Pathrick, and all the Saints of ould Ireland, bless your honor."

A Gem of Rhetoric.—There is no sweeter word picture in the English language than the following, descriptive of the approach of autumn, from Dr. Holland's "Arthur Bonnicastle:"

The summer months passed away, and that great, mysterious change came on which reported the consummation of growth and maturity in the processes and products of the year. The plants that had toiled all summer, evolving flower and fruit, were soothed to sleep. The birds stopped singing lest they should waken them. The locusts by day and the crickets by night crooned their lullaby. A dreamy haze hung around the distant hills, and here and there a woodbine lighted its torch in the darkening dingle, and the maples in mellow fire signaled each other from hill to hill. The year had begun to die. There were chills at night and fevers by day, and stretches of weird silence that impressed me more profoundly than I can possibly reveal. It was as if the angels of the summer had fled at the first frost, and the angels of the autumn had come down, bringing with them a new act of spiritual influences that saddened while they sweetened every soul whose sensibilities were delicate enough to apprehend and receive them."

A Roman Catholic Pilgrimage in America.—A New York dispatch of Sept. 28th has the following:

The New Catholic Union met last night at the residence of Archbishop McClosky and letters were received from Unions in Dublin, London, Rome, Paris and Louvain. Dr. Anderson, of the Catholic Protectory, occupied the chair. In opening he said that the main object of their gathering was to consider the practicability of pilgrimages in America. If a pilgrimage could not be conveniently made in fact, it admitted of accomplishment in spirit. The Doctor proposed that the month of October be selected for pursuance of a spiritual pilgrimage in the United States.

The Archbishop objected, on the very essential grounds that October would not give him time to inform his Holiness of the project, and themselves an opportunity of procuring the plenary indulgence already given to those who had undertaken pilgrimages.

Mr. Anderson explained, that it was the object of this pilgrimage for all Catholics to unite in prayer for the recovery of the usurped liberties of the Church, and to exercise a moral influence over the enemies of Catholicity.

The Mobile Register utters some very plain language on the subject of the Woodhull's addresses in Chicago. With very much of justice it says:

"Never in the history of the world—not even in the lowest days of Roman depravity, when poets and artists vied with each other in the dissemination of the most odious vices, has pen, pencil, or chisel reached such a depth of obscenity. It would not do for a paper like this even to hint at those infamous precepts and we must confine ourselves to the simple question as to how any civilized community can under the flimsy pretense of respect for the freedom of speech allow such a debased creature to leave the platform of a public hall untorn by the just fury of her hearers."

Probably a great many people are inclined to ask the same question.

Proposals for Carrying Mails.—A Washington dispatch of the 28th ult says:

A considerable force of clerks in the Post Office Department are now occupied in sending out pamphlets containing advertisements inviting proposals for carrying the mails in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, Nebraska, Kansas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, and the Territories of Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Washington from July 1874 to June 1878. Proposals will be received for this service until 3 o'clock P. M. February 2 1874 and the decisions will be announced within one month thereafter. The pamphlets sent out by the Department contain all laws bearing on the subject and full instructions for bidding. These are furnished to all the principal postoffices on the various routes and will be advertised in two or more newspapers in each State and Territory.

No one should neglect a cough. A first rate Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry will cure you. Thousands attest its wonderful power. Coughs, colds, bronchitis and consumption give way before this great purifier.

PERSONAL NOTES.

General Fremont, it is reported, is dangerously ill at his residence on Porcupine Island, off the coast of Maine.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, at her home in Florida, has kept open a school of fifty scholars, during the summer, at her own expense.

When the Duke of Edinburgh visited Birmingham the other day a fervid old lady elbowed her way to the front of the crowd, exclaiming, "God bless you! How's your dear mother?"

M. Rocher-Ripert, a nephew of ex President Thiers, has been justifying his uncle's enthusiasm for the American type of republicanism by getting himself arrested for a railway embezzlement.

Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, the editor of Godey's Lady's Book is eighty-five years old, still vigorous in body and in mind. Her maiden name was Sarah Josepha Buell. She has been a widow ever since 1822.

The Rev. Charles Kingsley, the brilliant and popular English author, will visit this country soon after Christmas. He does not come to make money as a lecturer, but, as he writes "to spend a few months in seeing with my own eyes your wonderful country and people."

It is reported that Senator Sumner will begin to lecture on his new subject in about five weeks, and will deliver it four or five times a week until the opening of Congress, if his health permits, as he believes it will. On the first day of the session he will introduce again his civil rights bill. He expects to give full attention to his Senatorial duties.

Dr. Otto Obermeier, an eminent physician of Berlin, died last month of cholera, contracted during a series of experiments with the excreta of cholera patients. He is reported to have intentionally inoculated himself with the infected fluids in order to study the modes of contagion, and even, on his death-bed, persisted in making microscopic examinations of his own blood.

An important change in the wearing apparel of the King of Dahomey is reported. Seated on his throne, he received a scientific commission, not long ago, his body profusely decorated with the blue, gold and green labels which had been carefully peeled from the medicine bottles brought by Europeans into his dominions. In such a picturesque garb the African prince must have equaled even the glittering costume of the Shah.

The New York papers report a remarkable incident from a local police office. An English gentleman arrived at Jersey City and drove with his baggage to a fashionable up-town hotel. "What have I to pay?" he inquired, of the Jehu. "Just $15," promptly replied the politician. Now, a custom prevails in London, pursuant to an Act of Parliament, that in case of any dispute with a fare, the cabman must drive to the nearest Police Court. The Englishman reasoning by analogy, and luckily in this case, told the man to drive to a police office. Arrived there the gentleman stated his case, explaining that he was a stranger, and simply wished to pay what was right, according to the recognized tariff. The Justice said to this moderate-minded hackman "You will drive this gentleman to his hotel. Your fare will be altogether $3, but before you go you will have to pay $1 50 for the expenses attending this most proper application." Thus the ends of justice were fulfilled; the Englishman was delighted, and the magistrate realized $1 50.

New Opening.—Messrs. Hurgren & Shindler have opened at the corner of Front and Alder streets. A full stock of furniture, etc., on hand—more being added daily.

The political cauldron is boiling, but amid the excitement attending the present canvass, our merchants are laying in large stocks of fall and winter goods. Among the number, we observed yesterday Messrs. BECK & WALDMAN opening several cases of men and boys' clothing. The new hat for boys is nobby. They keep them, as well as other goods for youths. Be sure and call to-day.

There is no disease flesh is heir to more troublesome to manage than rheumatism. It comes when you least expect it, and generally remains till it gets ready to go away. The most conspicuous remedy for this complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Two or three doses of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will cure a horse of any common cough or cold, and the very worst cases may be cured in a few weeks. We know this from experience.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and [illegible] such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the proposed results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 3, 1873.

CITY.

A "Bear-ish" Imitation.—At the saloon of Alex Campbell can be seen a novel sight. It consists of a perfect imitation of a bear, about the size of a half-grown cat. The color of the hair and the shape of the artificial animal is so true to nature that to discover the illusion one must examine it closely. Some machinery is placed inside the stuffed animal, which is wound up similar to a clock. When the machine is set in motion, it causes the object to assume a variety of grotesque attitudes which are so natural that one would be ready to take an oath that it was a live creature. The head is caused to turn from side to side the fore paws to move about, the jaws to distend and suddenly close, the body to sway to and fro, and the small glass eyes to fiercely glare about. The whirring of the wheels very closely resembles the growls of an enraged bear, and tends to heighten the deception. It is one of the most clever attempts at an imitation of nature which we have seen anywhere Such a sham bruin would draw immensely if placed in a conspicuous show window

Bound Homeward.—The Sentinel says: "The Rev. Mother Caron, Mother-General of the Sisters of Charity of the House of Providence, who has been on this coast for several months, visiting the different establishments of her Order in the Diocese of Nesqually, left here last week via San Francisco, for her home in Canada. The Rev Mother is accompanied by Sisters Agnes and Armine, who will make the tour of the Eastern States for the purpose of asking the assistance of the rich and charitable in the building of their new Convent and Orphan Asylum at Vancouver. Several Eastern prelates, among them the Archbishops of Cincinnati and St Louis, have given their permission to collect in their respective Dioceses.

Statistics.—The attendance at Taylor street M. E. Sunday school for September aggregates 1,079, average, including concerts, 270; average, not including concerts, 235; average of officers and teachers, 34; average of Infant Class, 49½ For quarter ending Sept. 8th, average, including concerts, 251½; average, not including concerts, 211¼; average of officers and teachers, 34¼; average of Infant Class, 39¼; number of officers and teachers enrolled, 45. On Wednesday evening last the following officers were elected: Superintendent, J. K. Gill; Lady Superintendent, Mrs. Sarah V. Hill; Assistant Superintendent, J. F. Meston; Treasurer, E. W. Cornell; Secretary, J. F. Clarke; Librarian, Fred Mathews.

Omitted.—In our account on Thursday of the improvements made and in progress in the burnt district, we unintentionally omitted to mention the partial rebuilding and refitting of the two brick buildings at the corner of Yamhill and First streets. These buildings belong to Mr. L. H. Wakefield and Dr. J. G. Glenn. Both were badly damaged by the fire, but have been repaired and are now in better condition than before the flames reached them. The buildings are finished, and one is already occupied.

Anniversary.—Next Friday evening, Oct. 10th, being the anniversary of Father Mathew's birth, Mr. S. J. McCormick will repeat his lecture upon the life and labors of that apostle of temperance. The lecture will be held under the auspices of the Father Mathew T. A. B. Society. The object, together with the well known ability of Mr. McCormick as a lecturer and a vocalist, should certainly be sufficient to fill Philharmonic Hall to overflowing on that occasion.

Fines and Costs Remitted.—We learn that Gov. Grover has ordered that the fines and costs be remitted in the case of Wm, Squires and son, of Tillamook. These parties, it will be remembered, were tried in that county at the last term of Circuit Court, on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon and convicted. Wm. Squires, the father, was fined $200, and James Squires, the son, $100. The order was issued by the Governor on the 1st instant.

A Handsome Compass.—Mr. L. Rau, the skillful instrument maker, near the corner of Oak and First streets, is at present engaged in making and has nearly finished a superb surveying compass, which he proposes to exhibit at the State Fair. He has made the instrument entirely himself, which, considering its intricate and delicate mechanism, is saying much for his skill as a workman. The instrument will be, when completed, a perfect beauty.

Dry Houses Burned.—A gentleman just from Clackamas county, informs us that within the past week two houses used for drying fruit, caught fire and were destroyed. One of these houses belonged to Mr. Alex. Marks, and the other to Jacob Roop, both of whom reside near Needy. The buildings were worth several hundred dollars each. A considerable quantity of partially dried fruit was lost by the fire.

Accommodation Steamer.—In order to avail of the tide at the present low stage of water, the steamer John L. Stephens will take her departure down the river to-day at 2 o'clock. The steamer will stop at some point down the river and be joined to-morrow by the Senator. This boat will leave here promptly to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock with passengers, baggage, mails and express.

Refractory.—A large band of refractory beef cattle were attempted to be driven on the Stark street ferry yesterday afternoon. About half went on board, when all turned tail and ran away, despite the efforts of the drover to head them off At length they were induced at the end of the whiplash to trust themselves on the boat, and were conveyed to the opposite shore.

To be Organized.—We understand that there is a movement "afloat" among our young men which, judging from appearances, will prove a success. It is the organization of a Mock Legislature, the first meeting of which is to be held in the County Court-room this evening, at 7 o'clock. All those intending to take part are requested to be on hand promptly.

Iron Rod.—Mr. Evans, of the Signal Service corps, has caused to be erected above Parrish's building a telescopic iron rod, on the top of which he has placed the anemometer with the telegraphic connections attached. The rod is about 23 feet high—a sufficient altitude to be unaffected by the counter currents of wind caused by the surrounding buildings.

Time of Filing.—The law provides that attorneys must file complaints in the office of the County Clerk ten days prior to the convening of the Circuit Court As the Court will convene on Tuesday, 14th inst., to-morrow will be the last day on which complaints in civil cases can be filed Attorneys should not be unmindful of this fact.

Poll Books.—One week from next Monday the special election for Congressman will be held. The County Clerk has completed the poll books, and caused them to be delivered to the judges of the election. Each precinct in this county is entitled to two copies of the poll books.

Raked the Bottom.—The steamer Governor Grover arrived here last week from up the river. Yesterday morning the boat ran aground at Union Bar, and was detained some time. At McClosky's Bar she scraped heavily, but run the gauntlet without stoppage.

Courts to Convene.—Next Monday morning the County Court, Judge Hamilton, presiding, will convene. On the same day the United States Circuit Court will also meet The Circuit Court for Multnomah county will begin on the 14th inst.

Flag Flying.—As the Hibernian Benevolent Society held their grand concert and ball last evening, all day yesterday the Emerald flag of the "Harp and Sun Burst" was floating proudly from the top of the staff over Ankeny's Hall.

Attendance.—The attendance at the public schools of the city is unusually large and all appear very prosperous. At North Portland school under the management of Prof. Freeman, there is a daily average attendance of 165.

Will Sail.—To-day at 2 o'clock P. M. the steamship John L. Stephens will sail with passengers and freight for San Francisco.

Race Boat.—The Olympia Courier says: The North Pacific, on the 24th ult. brought over from Victoria a race boat, for some one at Portland. The whole thing, including sculls and out-rigging, don't weigh over 80 pounds. She will be apt to make the natives stare over there on fresh water. The boat will be shipped for Portland on the Telfair.

Lumber at Auction.—To-day at 10 A. M. is the time selected for the auction sale of lumber at the lumber yard in Caruthers Addition, between Lincoln and Grant streets. This will probably be a rare chance to invest.

Rolls Delivered.—Assessor Dolan went up to Salem yesterday morning, taking with him a copy of the assessment rolls which he will lay before the Board of Equalization now in session there.

Change of Superintendents.—Mr. John H. Moores, who has been superintendent of the Willamet Iron Works, has resigned his position, and Mr. James Lotan is appointed his successor.

Treasure Received.—Forty thousand dollars were received by Wells, Fargo & Co. on the last steamer. Over $400,000 has been received from below within the past month.

At the Lower Mill.—Yesterday morning the Emma Hayward towed down the bark Woodward to the sawmill below the city. She will receive a cargo of lumber for Hongkong

Tug Sedalia.—This tug having received the boiler and machinery on board, has been towed down the river, where the upper works will be built.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL, ETC.

(From the P C Advocate.)

Rev. A. B. Smith, recently from California, has assumed charge of the Zion M. E. Church in this city.

Rev. Wm. McPheeters gave us a call last week on his way to Salem, to take pastoral charge of the M. E. Church at that place.

Mr. S. C. Foster and son, of South Yamhill circuit, went out on the last steamer for a visit to their numerous friends in Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan.

The Missionary Concert of the Taylor street M. E. Sunday School for October, will be held on next Sunday at 2 o'clock P. M. A programme of exercises has been prepared that we think will prove both interesting and profitable.

The Sunday School concert held on last evening at the Hall street M. E. Church, Rev. T. F. Royal pastor, was very largely attended, and the exercises throughout were interesting and highly creditable to all concerned. The following programme was adhered to: 1. singing; 2. prayer; 3. salutatory, by Eddie Maxwell; 4. singing; 5. class exercises, by fourteen boys and girls; 6. solo, by Mollie Caples; 7. recitation, Miss Mary Combs; 8. quartette, "Sweeping Through the Gates;" 9. address, by Hon. J. F. Caples; 10. Latin poem, L. Royal; 11. reading; 12. solo and chorus; 13. valedictory, R. Ball; 14. closing remarks by M. G. Royal.

COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Sisters of St Mary's Academy appreciating the kindness extended them by Mr Levi Estes, desire that their heartfelt gratitude be tendered to the charitable Superintendent for his generous invitation to the Sisters to ride gratis in the street cars.

AMUSEMENTS.

Ankeny's Hall was well filled last evening, on the occasion of the concert given under the auspices of the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society. There were present about five hundred persons composed of the most cultivated and refined of our city On the occasion a very excellent programme was presented, and rendered in corresponding style. The entertainment began with a grand overture, "Stradella" (Flotow), rendered in splendid style by the orchestra, composed of fourteen pieces, under the direction of Mr. S Harris This was followed by a vocal duet, "Last to the Convent Bells," by Miss Katie Richards and Mr H. L Herman. This selection was rendered in a happy manner, eliciting from the audience warm applause and a hearty encore. The next on the programme was a vocal solo by Mr. S. J McCormick, entitled the "Irish Emigrant." He won hearty plaudits and an encore. Miss Rables next performed a piano solo, "Invitation a la Vaise" (Von Weber) This lady evinced great skill and splendid execution in the rendering of the difficult selection, and was encored at the end of the performance. "The Harp that once through Tara's Hall," was next beautifully rendered by Mrs G. L. DePrans That lady fairly took the house by storm, and was compelled to reappear on the stage and sing "Edy Mavourneen," before the audience were satisfied "Wein Galop," (Herzog), was next given by the Portland band in their most dashing style. Following this came a waltz, "Casino Tanze," (Gungl) by the full orchestra, with fine effect. Miss Richards sang pleasingly a ballad, which gained her applause and an encore. Messrs. DePrans and Hatch rendered very beautifully a piano and organ duet, "I Dreamed I Dwelt in Marble Halls." Prolonged applause and a hearty encore was won by these gentlemen from the audience. A grand march, "En Avant," (Gungl), rendered by the orchestra, likewise won its meed of applause. One of the most pleasing features of the entertainment was a vocal solo rendered by Mr. Wm. R. Boone, "The Oregon Boy," in full costume. This young gentleman possesses a very pleasant and tolerably well cultivated voice, partaking strongly of feminine characteristics. He sang "Bell Brandon" in first rate style, and received a well earned encore. The closing selection of the entertainment was a "Medley on Irish Airs, (Yost) by the Portland band.

The entire concert passed off in a satisfactory manner. It was a creditable affair in all respects, and quite substantial in its results. Nearly $500 will be realized from the concert, which sum will be applied toward the erection of a new hall for the Society.

After the concert was over the immense hall was cleared of the seats, and dancing began. Many who attended the concert remained at the hall, and many more came to attend the ball after the first part was over.

Altogether it was one of the most pleasant and successful affairs which has been given in Portland the present season.

GENERAL NOTES.

"James Jenkins," said a schoolmaster to his pupil, "what is an average?" "A thing, sir," answered the scholar, promptly, "that hens lay eggs on." "Why do you say that, you silly boy?" asked the pedagogue. "Because, sir," said the youth, "I heard a gentleman say the other day that a hen would lay, on an average, twenty eggs a year."

A correspondent is at a loss, and says: "Can any one adduce an instance of a really new surname having been adopted by any person within recent years? I am cognizant of persons having changed their surnames, but I have not heard of any one (except in fiction) coining or striking out a new surname." The correspondent ought to interview Senator Mitchell (nee Hipple) on the subject, when the latter returns to Washington.

An excellent story is current, and deserves mention. A most gallant, decorated and distinguished officer of the British force was lately President of a Court-martial. He had sworn a witness, a raw Irish recruit, and held out his hand for the Bible. Judge of his astonishment at finding it—the hand, not the book—grasped and heartily shaken by Pat, who, in the very broadest brogue, said, "It's myself who is proud and pleased to hould the hand of ye, sir, and may Saint Pathrick, and all the Saints of ould Ireland, bless your honor."

A Gem of Rhetoric.—There is no sweeter word picture in the English language than the following, descriptive of the approach of autumn, from Dr. Holland's "Arthur Bonnicastle:"

"The summer months passed away, and that great, mysterious change came on which reported the consummation of growth and maturity in the processes and products of the year. The plants that had toiled all summer, evolving flower and fruit, were soothed to sleep. The birds stopped singing lest they should waken them. The locusts by day and the crickets by night crooned their lullaby. A dreamy haze hung around the distant hills, and here and there a woodbine lighted its torch in the darkening dingle, and the maples in mellow fire signaled each other from hill to hill. The year had begun to die. There were chills at night and fevers by day, and stretches of weird silence that impressed me more profoundly than I can possibly reveal. It was as if the angels of the summer had fled at the first frost, and the angels of the autumn had come down, bringing with them a new set of spiritual influences that saddened while they sweetened every soul whose sensibilities were delicate enough to apprehend and receive them."

A Roman Catholic Pilgrimage in America.—A New York dispatch of Sept. 28th has the following

The New Catholic Union met last night at the residence of Archbishop McClosky and letters were received from Unions in Dublin, London, Rome, Paris and Louvain. Dr. Anderson, of the Catholic Protectory, occupied the chair. In opening he said that the main object of their gathering was to consider the practicability of pilgrimages in America. If a pilgrimage could not be conveniently made in fact, it admitted of accomplishment in spirit. The Doctor proposed that the month of October be selected for pursuance of a spiritual pilgrimage in the United States.

The Archbishop objected, on the very essential grounds that October would not give him time to inform his Holiness of the project, and themselves an opportunity of procuring the plenary indulgence already given to those who had undertaken pilgrimages.

Mr Anderson explained, that it was the object of this pilgrimage for all Catholics to unite in prayer for the recovery of the usurped liberties of the Church, and to exercise a moral influence over the enemies of Catholicity.

The Mobile Register utters some very plain language on the subject of the Woodhull's addresses in Chicago. With very much of justice it says

"Never in the history of the world—not even in the lowest days of Roman depravity when poets and artists vied with each other in the dissemination of the most odious vices has pen, pencil, or chisel reached such a depth of obscenity. It would not do for a paper like this even to hint at those infamous precepts, and we must confine ourselves to the simple question as to how any civilized community can, under the flimsy pretense of respect for the freedom of speech allow such a debased creature to have the platform of a public hall untorn by the just fury of her hearers."

Probably a great many people are inclined to ask the same question

Proposals for Carrying Mails.—A Washington dispatch of the 25th ult says

A considerable force of clerks in the Post Office Department are now occupied in sending out pamphlets containing advertisements inviting proposals for carrying the mails in the States of California Oregon Nevada, Nebraska Kansas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas and the Territories of Dakota Montana Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico Idaho Utah Arizona and Washington from July 1874 to June 1878. Proposals will be received until 3 o'clock P. M. February 2 1874 and the decisions will be announced within one month thereafter The pamphlets sent out by the Department contain all laws bearing on the subject and full instructions for bidding. These are furnished to all the principal postoffices on the various routes and will be advertised in two or more newspapers in each State and Territory.

No one should neglect a cough. It is suicide. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry will cure you. Thousands attest its wonderful power Coughs colds, bronchitis and consumption give way before this great purifier.

PERSONAL NOTES.

General Fremont, it is reported, is dangerously ill at his residence on Porcupine Island, off the coast of Maine

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, at her home in Florida, has kept open a school of fifty scholars, during the summer, at her own expense.

When the Duke of Edinburgh visited Birmingham the other day, a fervid old lady elbowed her way to the front of the crowd, exclaiming, "God bless you! How's your dear mother?"

M Rocher-Rupert, a nephew of ex-President Thiers, has been justifying his uncle's enthusiasm for the American type of republicanism by getting himself arrested for a railway embezzlement.

Mrs Sarah J. Hale, the editor of Godey's Lady's Book, is eighty-five years old, still vigorous in body and in mind. Her maiden name was Sarah Josepha Buell She has been a widow ever since 1822.

The Rev. Charles Kingsley, the brilliant and popular English author, will visit this country soon after Christmas He does not come to make money as a lecturer, but, as he writes "to spend a few months in seeing with my own eyes your wonderful country and people."

It is reported that Senator Sumner will begin to lecture on his new subject in about five weeks, and will deliver it four or five times a week until the opening of Congress, if his health permits, as he believes it will On the first day of the session he will introduce again his civil rights bill. He expects to give full attention to his Senatorial duties.

Dr. Otto Obermeier, an eminent physician of Berlin, died last month of cholera, contracted during a series of experiments with the excreta of cholera patients. He is reported to have intentionally inoculated himself with the infected fluids in order to study the modes of contagion, and even, on his death-bed, persisted in making microscopic examinations of his own blood.

An important change in the wearing apparel of the King of Dahomey is reported. Seated on his throne, he received a scientific commission, not long ago, his body profusely decorated with the blue, gold and green labels which had been carefully peeled from the medicine bottles brought by Europeans into his dominions. In such a picturesque garb the African prince must have equaled even the glittering costume of the Shah.

The New York papers report a remarkable incident from a local police office. An English gentleman arrived at Jersey City and drove with his baggage to a fashionable uptown hotel. "What have I to pay?" he inquired, of the Jehu. "Just $13," promptly replied the politician. Now, a custom prevails in London; pursuant to an Act of Parliament, that in case of any dispute with a fare, the cabman must drive to the nearest Police Court. The Englishman reasoning by analogy, and luckily in this case, told the man to drive to a police office. Arrived there the gentleman stated his case, explaining that he was a stranger, and simply wished to pay what was right, according to the recognized tariff. The Justice said to this moderate-minded hackman: "You will drive this gentleman to his hotel. Your fare will be altogether $3, but before you go you will have to pay $1 50 for the expenses attending this most proper application." Thus the ends of justice were fulfilled; the Englishman was delighted, and the magistrate realized $1 50.

New Opening.—Messrs. Hurgren & Shindler have opened at the corner of Front and Alder streets. A full stock of furniture, etc., on hand—more being added daily.

The political cauldron is boiling, but amid the excitement attending the present canvass, our merchants are laying in large stocks of fall and winter goods. Among the number, we observed yesterday Messrs. BECK & WALDMAN opening several cases of men and boys' clothing. The new hat for boys is nobby. They keep them, as well as other goods for youths. Be sure and call to day

There is no disease flesh is heir to more troublesome to manage than rheumatism. It comes when you least expect it, and generally remains till it gets ready to go away. The most conspicuous remedy for this complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Two or three doses of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will cure a horse of any common cough or cold, and the very worst cases may be cured in a few weeks. We know this from experience.

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound of Eucalyptus is a preparation embracing all the valuable medical qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California [illegible] become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER [illegible] SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY [illegible] surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic [illegible] than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and [illegible] membranes, such as BACK [illegible] HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U S Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1-lb bottles.

EUCALYPTUS Beware of imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by HODGE, CALEF & CO, Wholesale Druggists, Portland, Sole Agents for Oregon.

GREELEY'S DRESS

THE TRUTH OF HISTORY ON A MUCH [illegible] QUESTION

[From Ingersoll's Life and Times of Horace Greeley]

Mr Greeley never became heartily addicted to full dress The last time the writer of these words saw him was in 1870 on the Capitol steps in Washington City He stopped and talked for perhaps half an hour though the day was broiling hot I recollect that he was dressed in faultless style and of afterward remarking to Mr Hawkins Taylor with whom he walked up the avenue that Horace Greeley was the best dressed man I had seen in Washington His cravat was not adjusted properly in the mode, his hat was evidently worn as a hat, not as an ornament, and his boots were not thin-soled but his whole toilet was that of careless elegance befitting a distinguished gentleman who spent no great amount of time in front of his looking glass The many thousands who have seen him on [illegible] tours and other occasions when he was off editorial duty—when not being driven [illegible] tumultuous winds of his busy life—can scarcely credit the numerous accounts we have had of his carelessness to dress Yet they are correct in the main His marching suit was not the same as that he wore on dress parade and the grand review And it is certain that he never bestowed much time in getting himself into his best clothes Several years before his death he lectured on one occasion at the city of Hamilton Ohio A barber was sent for to shave him, and act as temporary valet de [illegible], by whose labors Mr Greeley appeared in the faultless fashion of an exquisite He surveyed himself in the glass a moment and—[illegible] Re-tying his cravat and jerking his [illegible] collar about with an energy of man[illegible] and of idiom, while the valet vanished out of the storm, the lecturer appeared in due time with his wearing ear a little awry about the [illegible] but otherwise without violation of the [illegible] He has been seen on the streets of New York wearing a coat literally out at the elbows For many years of his life he was absolutely [illegible] as to his dress and at no time did he have the desire or the patience to give [illegible] attention to his personal appearance [illegible] he came to be a passably well-dressed [illegible] on occasions when not hard at work [illegible] fact which we may in justice rather credit to the genius of his tailor than his own If [illegible] has been one man who gave less attention to his toilet, as a toilet, than any other [illegible] was, most likely, Horace Greeley

AN AMUSING SCENE AT A STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT.—The average American is capable of the [illegible] disregard of the proprieties in the [illegible] of danger and a punctiliousness very [illegible] when the danger is removed This fact received a striking illustration on the [illegible] River the other day The steamer [illegible] had left St. Paul with an immense [illegible] of returning tourists on board, all the [illegible] being occupied and cots spread on the floor of the cabin at night. Reaching Le[illegible] after dark on Friday evening, it was [illegible] imprudent to lay there until morning, so [illegible] go down the Rock Island rapids during [illegible] and the boat was accordingly tied to the [illegible] At an early hour on Saturday morning the pilot-house was discovered to be on [illegible], an alarm of fire was given in the cabin, [illegible] awoke, jumped from their berths, [illegible] a scene of indescribable confusion [illegible] down stairs and over the gang plank to the shore. None stopped for other clothing [illegible] that in which they were sleeping not [illegible] thinking of throwing a bed-spread [illegible] them, and [illegible] safety on the levee, [illegible] women, and children huddled and shivered together in the cold morning air The [illegible] and crew of the boat went promptly to [illegible], put the steam pumps in motion, at[illegible] hose to the hydrants, and in fifteen minutes had the flames under control and in ten [illegible] more entirely quenched Then the [illegible] Captain Lamont requested his mascu[illegible] to turn their backs to the boat [illegible] the ladies went on board and the gen[illegible] complied in excellent humor nor [illegible] once to glance at the numerous pretty [illegible] until all had disappeared Then they [illegible] sought state-rooms, and clothes and [illegible]

"WITH THE FRAME."—In looking at some of the pictures that I see here, writes a correspondent from abroad, I can imagine that they were painted by an artist of whom I heard the following story in Brussels the other day His indulgent friends had praised his attempts at drawing and painting to such an extent that the youth really imagined himself an artist His wealthy friends even bought his pictures for considerable sums, "to encourage him The youth was thus the victim of his friends—as so many others are Recently, in walking along the main street in Brussels he was much delighted at seeing one of his pictures finely framed in a dealer's window—especially as he was with a lady before whom he wished to appear in the best light possible. Calling the attention of the lady to the picture he said "Pardon me, but I have some curiosity to know how my pictures stand commercially and with that the two entered the shop My good woman," said he to the keeper of the shop "how much is the picture in the window there?" "That? Yes Three francs and a half 'Mon Dieu!' cried the artist recoiling The poor woman, thinking the exclamation to be surprise at her high price said Bless me sir it is with the frame

GERMAN RUSSIAN EMIGRANTS.—While the prospective immigration of 30 000 Mennonites to this country is attracting general attention, it is interesting to note that 300 German Russians have arrived in Yankton Dakota in the vicinity of which they purpose to select claims and build houses These people have been induced to settle near Yankton from the fact that there are already some 700 of their people living in that neighborhood Denied certain privileges in Russia which they coveted and which the Czar's Government had formerly granted them but which have lately been taken from them—among them the privilege of immunity from the military service and that of speaking their own language—they have determined to seek a soil where they can enjoy their customs and traditions in peace The wealth of the 300 who have arrived in Yankton is said to aggregate $2 000 000 Many of them are worth from $500 to $10 000 while some of them would be esteemed rich anywhere There are five heads of families of the party who are worth respectively $100 000 $50 000 $30 000 $1 000 and $20 000 Four of the number possess money to the amount of $40 000 and two to the amount of $20 000

WILKIE COLLINS IN NEW YORK.—At the reception of Wilkie Collins at the [illegible] Club on Saturday night [illegible] a remarkable scene followed the introduction of Charles Bradlaugh late in the evening The [illegible] referred to the fact that class [illegible] and England were so great that the [illegible] had given him a foreign soil [illegible] opportunity in his life [illegible] he was so glad to honor an event [illegible] word in his praise There was no [illegible] English soil that would give him an equal privilege The speech was received with outbursts of enthusiasm prolonged cheers were given, and even after Bradlaugh had returned to his seat at the table beside Wilkie Collins the crowd continued cheering until he came forward and spoke briefly again

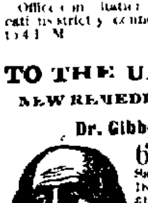
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea, Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearny street corner of Commercial, San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him
The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz. Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid [illegible] coughs consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, [illegible] apply immediately either in person or by [illegible] and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief
DR. GIBBON is responsible, and will give to [illegible] patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells, Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers [illegible] carriers intelligence office keepers etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates, pretended patients letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure
Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice Box 1 957,
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1957 ON THE LETTER Consultations FREE.
Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN jy4d4p
